Introduction to obsessiveness

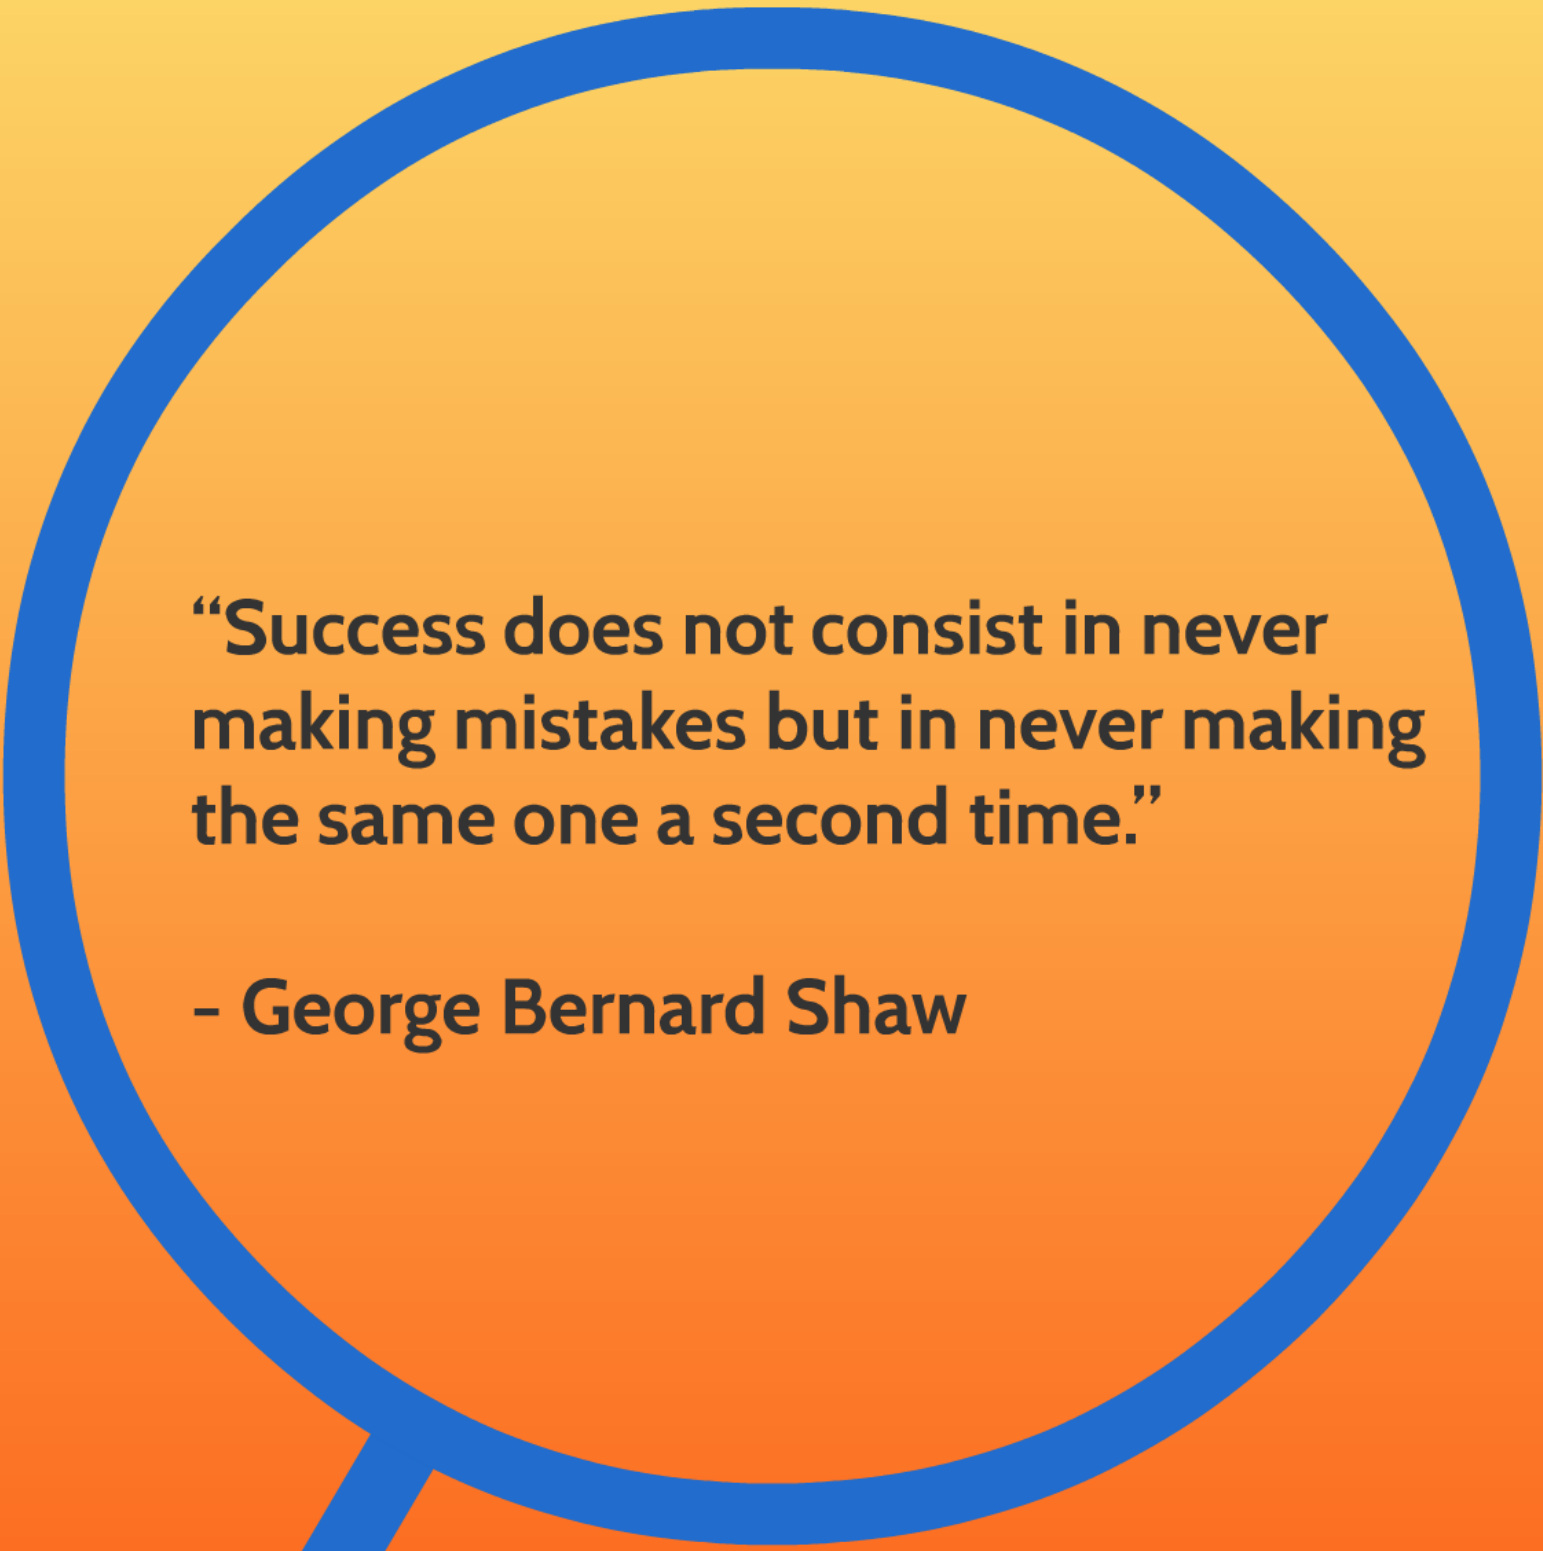

I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive. I am not obsessive.

The image features a large, thick blue circle centered on a background with a vertical orange-to-yellow gradient. Several abstract, semi-circular shapes in light orange and yellow are scattered around the edges of the frame. Inside the blue circle, the text is centered and reads:

“Anyone who has never made a mistake
has never tried anything new.”

- Albert Einstein

“Success does not consist in never making mistakes but in never making the same one a second time.”

- George Bernard Shaw

Making an impression

“What you wear is more important than what you say, and if your shirt’s not pressed, impressions are instantly formed about you. That’s why I wear nothing, I say nothing, and I network with nudists.”
