

New Starters Session:

The secret sauce to start in our industry

Anne-Sophie Bekx, Sascha Ahrweiler

PHUSE Education provides a roadmap covering the broad bandwidth of clinical data science

Hard Business Skills

- skills every clinical data scientist needs
- Eg. programming in different languages like SAS, R and Python.

Soft Business Skills

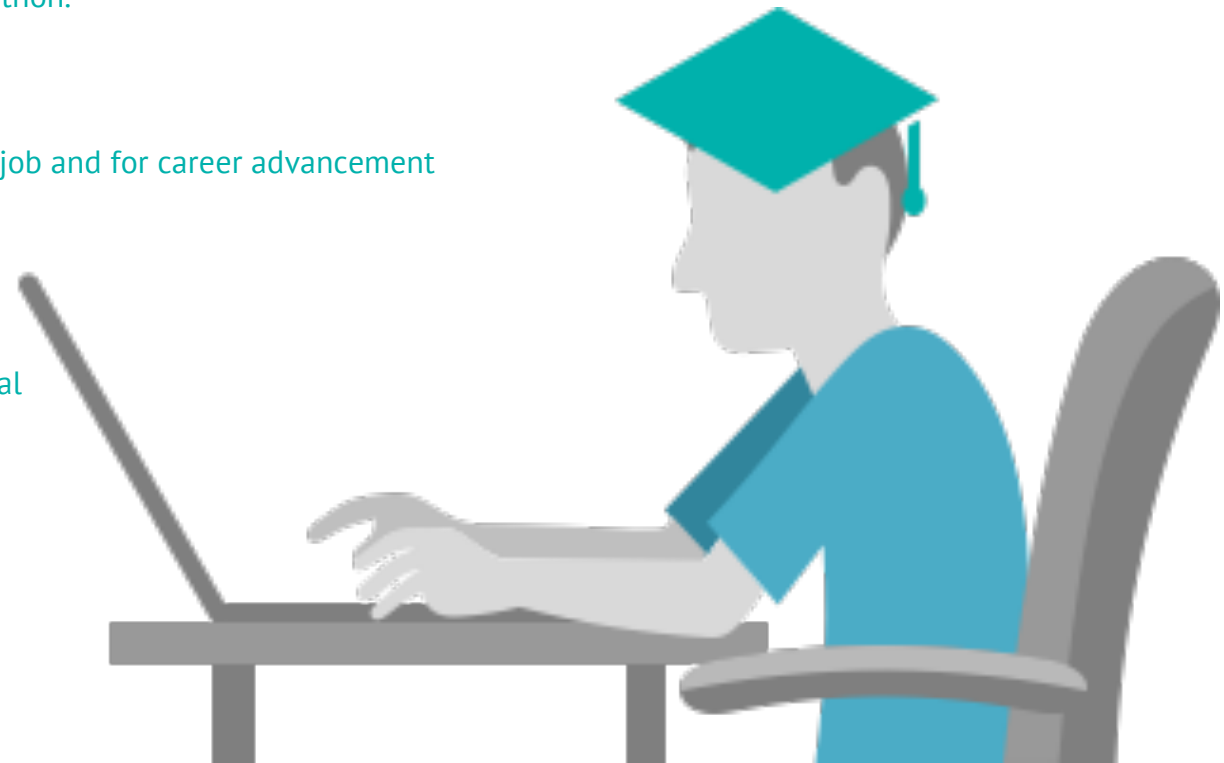

- skills clinical data scientists need to manage their current job and for career advancement
- Eg. project management, line management

Technology Understanding

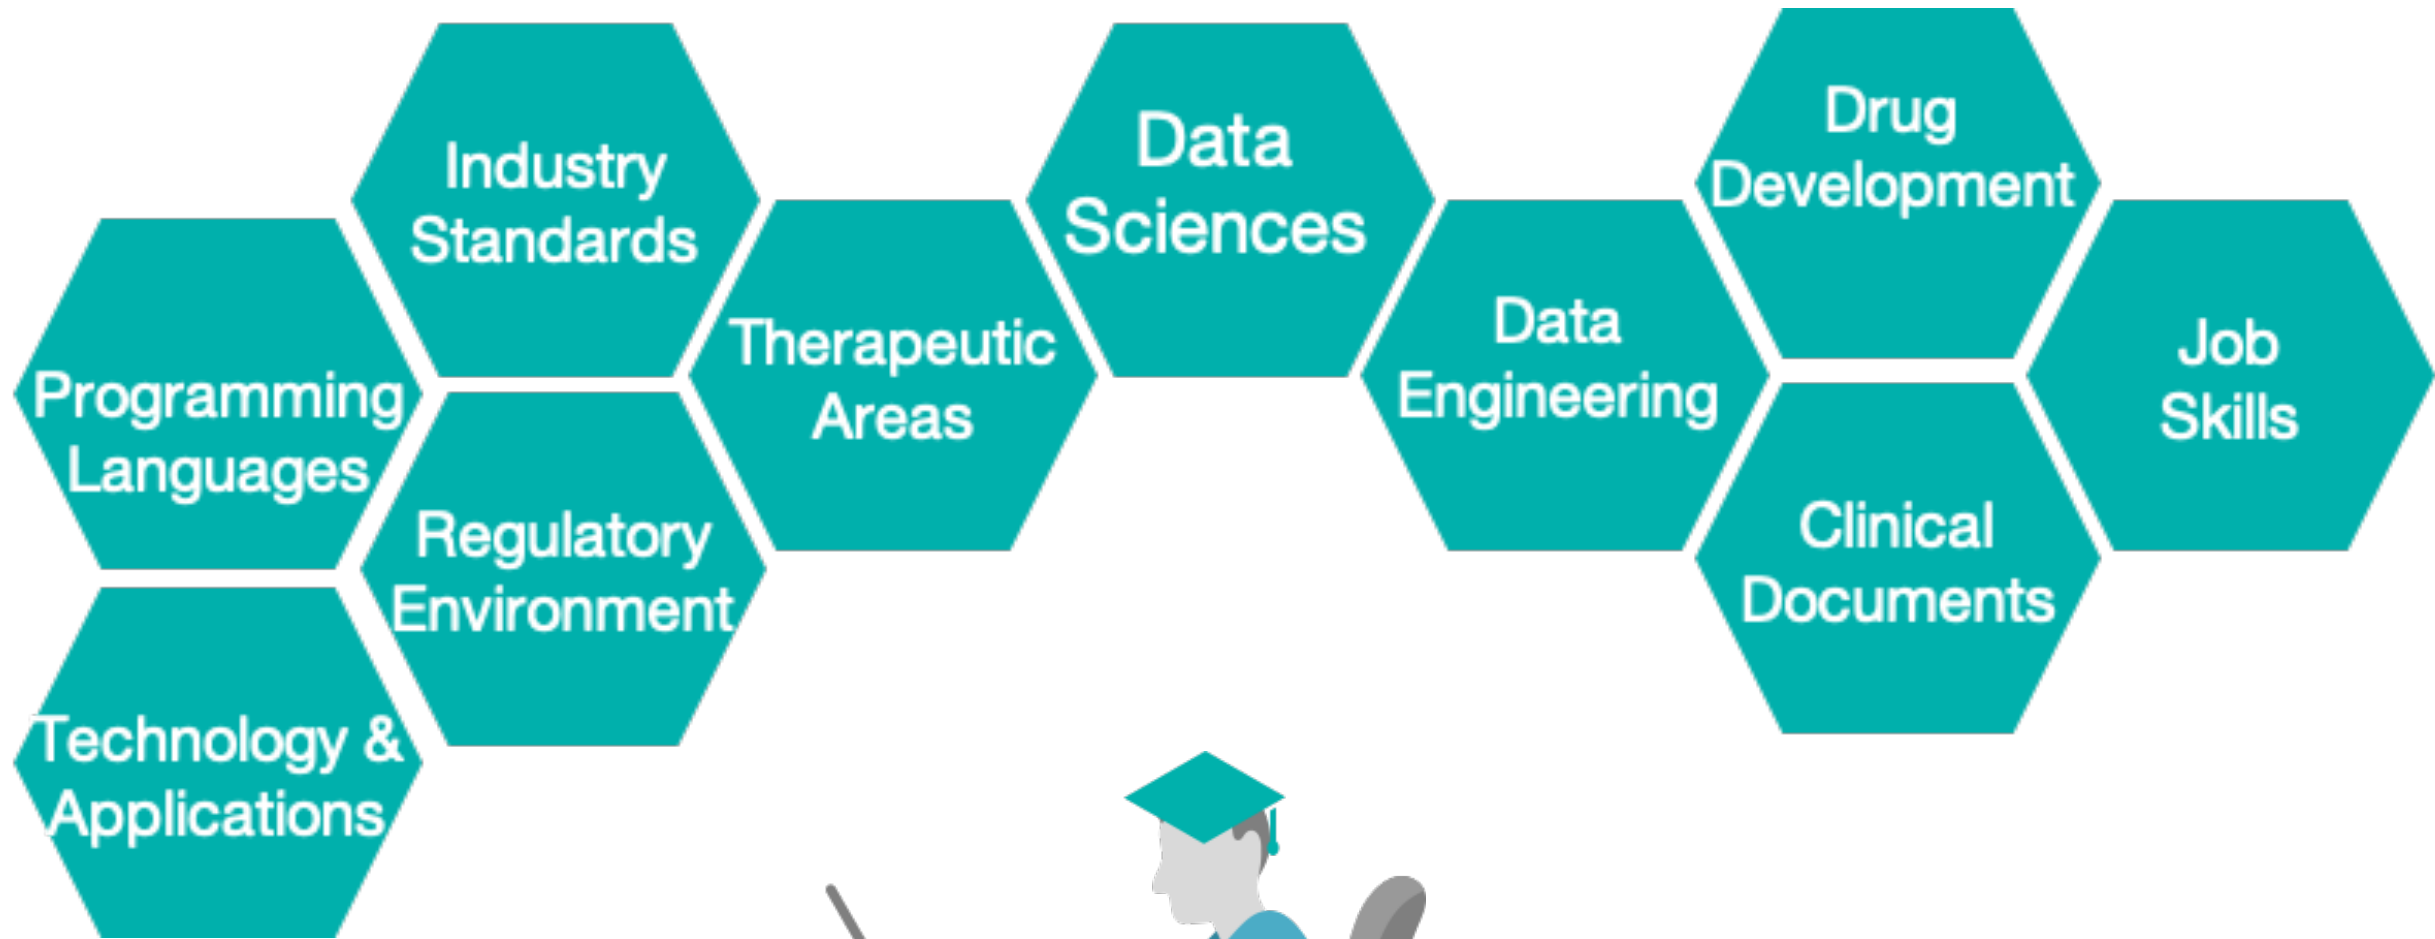

- thorough understanding of tools and technologies is critical
- Eg. how to utilise different tools and systems in their job

Domain Knowledge

- Understanding pharmaceutical and healthcare domain
- Eg. context of the acquired data, the regulatory environment and the drug development process.

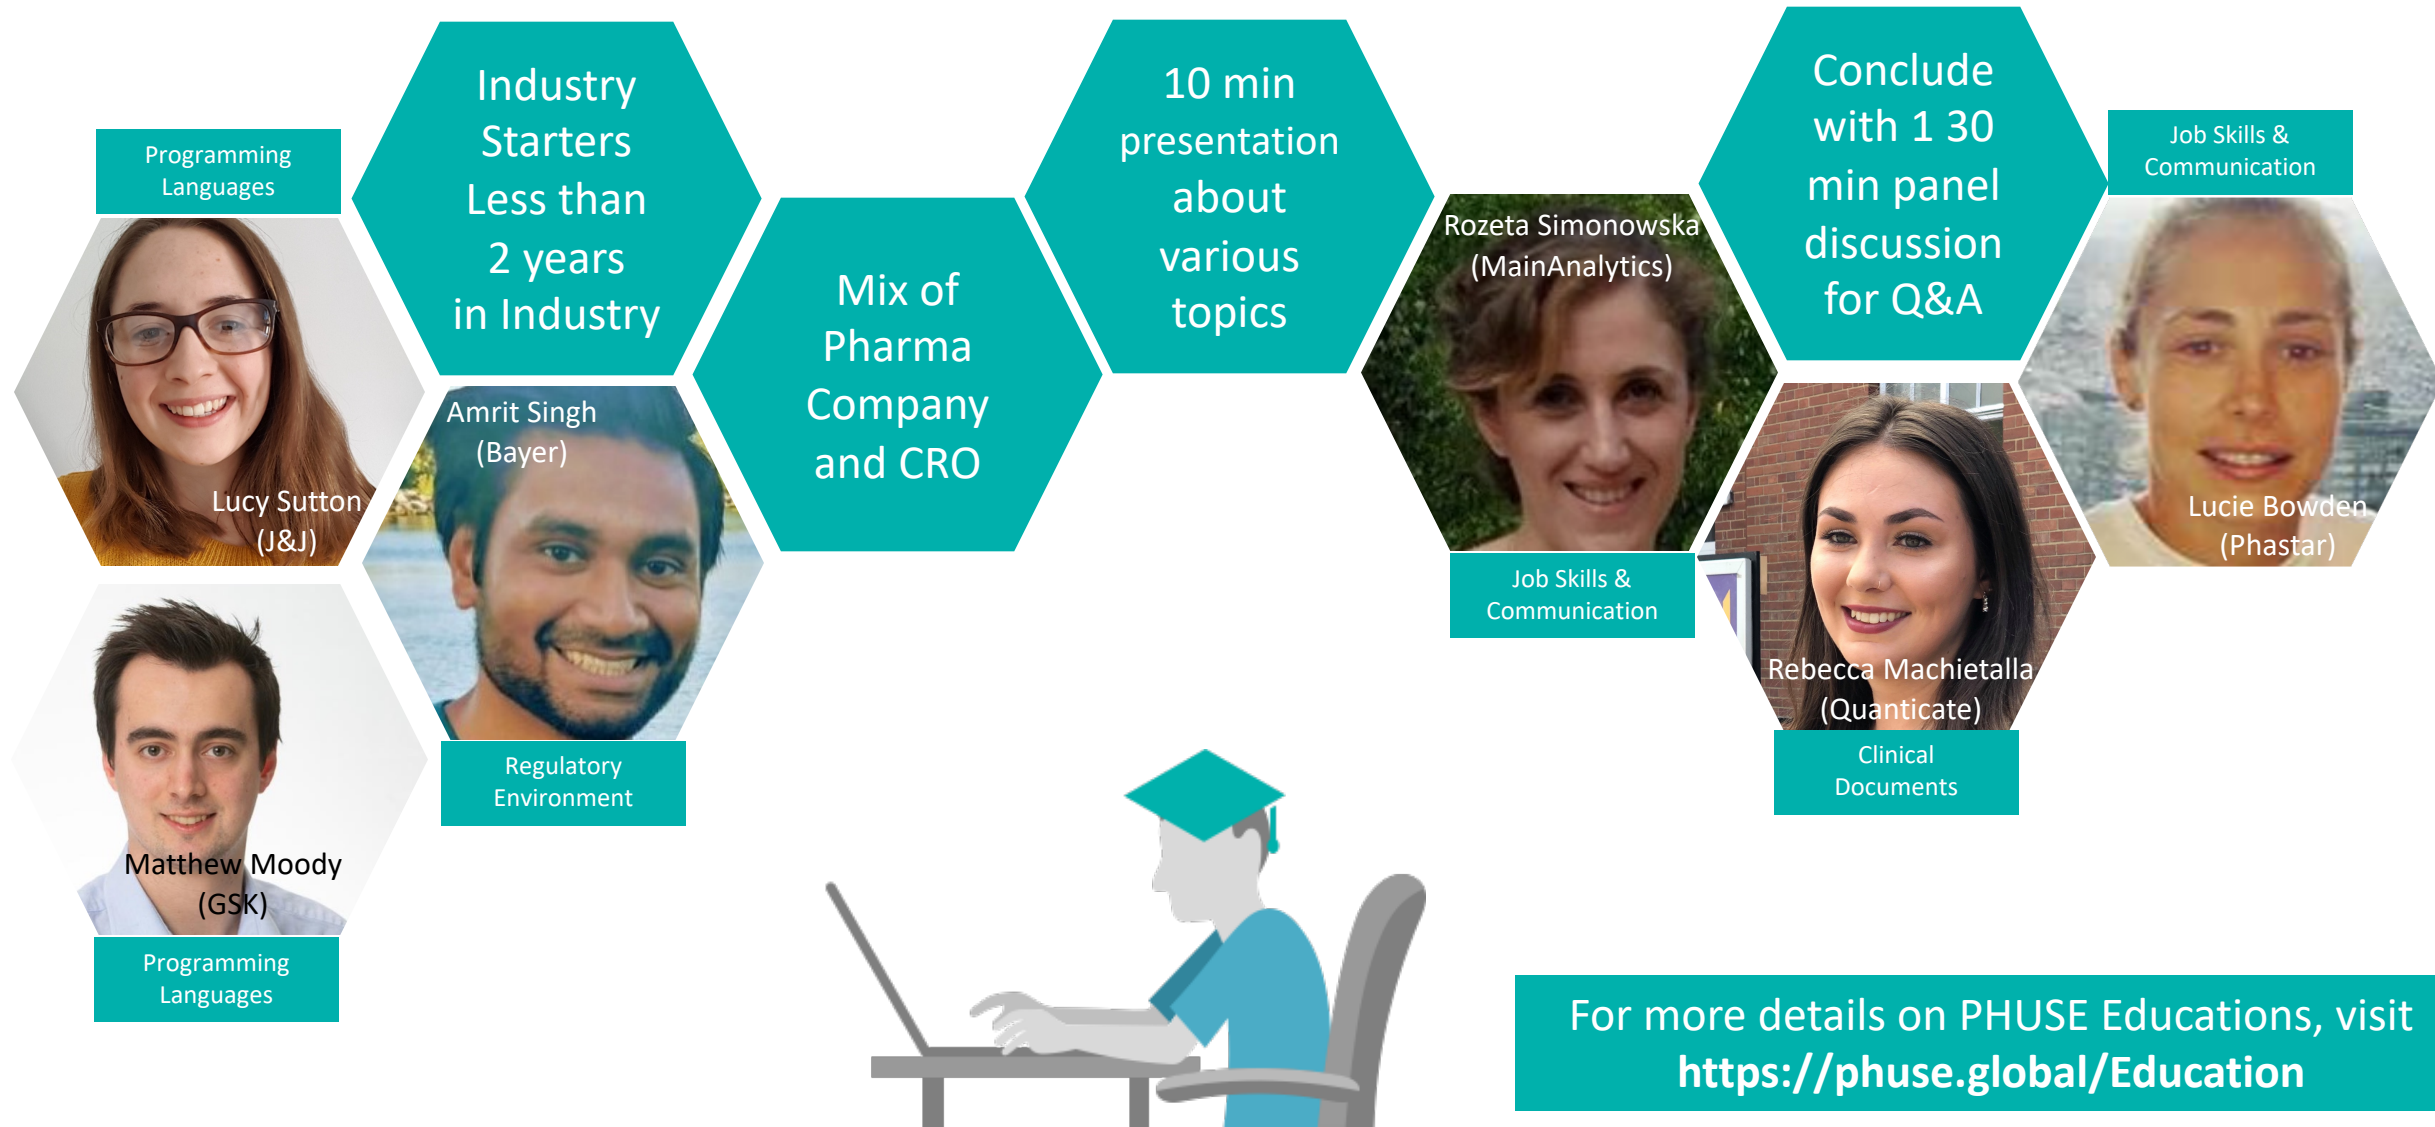

The secret sauce for a successful clinical data scientist consists of 10 different educational clusters

For more details on PHUSE Educations, visit
<https://phuse.global/Education>

How can we best learn about the secret sauce of getting started in our industry? Listen to the experts!

For more details on PHUSE Educations, visit <https://phuse.global/Education>

